Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the wheel studs having an internally threaded bore defined therein, as set forth in claims 1 and 12, must be clearly shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(b) because they are incomplete. 37 CFR 1.83(b) reads as follows:

When the invention consists of an improvement on an old machine the drawing must when possible exhibit, in one or more views, the improved portion itself, disconnected from the old structure, and also in another view, so much only of the old structure as will suffice to show the connection of the invention therewith.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

In this case, it is unclear why the external surface of end portion 52 is threaded as shown in Figure 2A. It is unclear how this threaded end 52 could be threaded into a threaded bore, given the fact that pin 51b would prevent rotation of the shaft 50. Furthermore, the threaded internal bore for receiving bolt 46 is not shown in the drawings. It is also unclear where pin 51b is received, since neither Figures 2 or 2A show a hole in plate 40.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1, 3, 5-9, and 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure, which is not enabling. The shaft including an axially extending pin located radially outwardly of the inner end of the shaft, appears to be critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976).

In this case, it is unclear why the inner end of the shaft includes a threaded exterior surface. As shown in Figure 2A, a pin 51b is located radially outwardly of the threaded exterior surface of the inner end 52 of the shaft. This pin 51b would prevent rotation of the shaft, and thus it is unclear how the threaded end 52 could be threaded into a corresponding aperture. The specification lacks any description of why the inner end 52 of the shaft is threaded and/or how the inner end of the shaft would function given the location of the pin 51b.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1, 3, 5-9, and 11-14 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 1st paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3, 5-9, and 11-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
